Claim Objections

1. Claims 1- 20 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claims 1,8,14,19 and 21 the terminology "sintering under pressure of a powder" is confusing. Also "the sintering body" should be "the sintered body".

Claims 3 and 16, it appears "200°C" should be "2000°C".

Claims 14 and 19, the terminology "subjected to mirror polishing and the metallic film" is confusing.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1,8,14,19,and 20, the term "the elements" lacks antecedent basis,

Claims 14 and 19, "the substrate comprising and aluminum nitride" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Art Unit: 1755

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a or e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Shinosawa et al (6,689,498).

Shinazawa et al teach an aluminum nitride sintered body which may be used for a substrate for a semiconductor or laser diode (column 1, lines 13-23) which includes a sintered aid of a rare earth element, with erbium and ytterbium both being exemplified, column 4, lines 43-60 and examples E5 and E6. The sintered body has a surface roughness of less than .5 microns with .05 microns with a mirror finish, see column 8, lines 9-19. The thermal conductivity is greater than 160 W/mK with greater than 200 W/mK exemplified in Table 3. It is also taught that the thermal conductivity may be controlled by grain size of the AlN. The claims are considered anticipated or in the alternative the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have selected the overlapping portion of the range disclosed by the prior art or select certain elements from the groups taught as being operational because overlapping ranges have been held to be a prima facie case of obvious, see In re Malagari, 182 U.S.P.Q 549.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Karl E. Group whose telephone number is 571-272-1368. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (6:30-4:00) First Friday Off.
